

What's Happening in the PAPJC April-May 2013

All PAPJC Members-

Here's a quick recap of our annual business meeting, including some upcoming exhibit and painting opportunities.

Paul Stach presented the financial report for our 2012-2013 fiscal year. Thanks to 2013 show fee income and careful expense management, we ended our fiscal year in April with $2,017.20 in the bank.

We agreed on the following dates for the annual Member show this November:

- Online registration Oct. 1-15
- Monday 10/28, 10-12:30 – Dropoff; Hanging that afternoon
- Saturday 11/2, 7-9 p.m. - Reception
- Monday 11/25, 10-12:30 - Pickup

The next Two Rivers Community Bank Rotation is targeted for September (date to be announced). Assuming there is no change from the first rotation, the bank is looking for large paintings – 2'x2' or larger – for their headquarters location, and smaller paintings for the Red Bank site.

Please send outing suggestions to Kathleen Beausoleil (kathleenbeausoleil@yahoo.com) and Caroline Klein (ckleinart1@aol.com). They will be doing the outing scheduling for the upcoming year.

We have been notified about some upcoming exhibit & painting opportunities in our community. These activities are not sponsored by the PAPJC, so you will need to contact the whoever is listed for each event. Here's the list:

- The Cultural Center in Monmouth Beach is holding its annual paintout this week, 5/13-18. You are welcome to join them. To participate in their "Painting Week" exhibit from 5/22-6/8, contact Pat Cahill at 732.693.1155 ASAP.
- Red Bank's "StreetLife" celebration, as part of RiverFest, is looking for 1-2 artists to demo/paint and engage with visitors on June 1st. You may sell your work during the event. For more information, contact Amanda at 732.842.4244 x 4.
- The Keyport Garden Walk is scheduled for 6/8 & 9. I'm not sure if registration is still open. If you're interested, contact Lois ("Lusia") Farina at luisafarina@optonline.net
- Deep Cut Gardens is holding its annual open house on Sunday, 6/9, from 10-3 and has invited PAPJC members to paint during the event. You can't sell on park property, but you can display your work and hand out business cards. No registration is necessary.
- Red Bank Library is looking for 1-2 artists to display their work at the front desk for July and August. For more information, contact Linda Hewitt at 732.842.0690 ASAP. (Linda is leaving this Friday for a 2 week vacation.)

- Kathleen is looking into the possibility of adding a plein air paint out to the next Fair Haven Centennial-plus-one event in either June or July.
- Judy is getting details about additional upcoming area events for artists and will pass that information along as she gets it.

We are still looking for a new president but may be close having a solution! Hopefully we'll have good news soon.

As outgoing president, this will be my last What's Happening letter. Having the opportunity to lead this wonderful group was an exceptional experience! With my husband Jay, I'll continue supporting our website, and I'm looking forward to painting with you all again in the fall when we return home from our summer in Michigan.

Past President, The PAPJC
